Contents

Preface by Series Editor, Nigel Townson vii
Acknowledgements ix
List of Abbreviations x

Introduction

1 Spanish–Mexican Relations, 1821–1931: An Overview 14
   Intellectuals and Diplomats 19
   Spain and the Mexican Revolution 21
   The Mexican Religious Conflict and Spain 24
   Hispanismo and Exaltation of the Indian by the Mexican Revolution 28

2 Relations with Republican Spain Prior to the Civil War, 1931–1936 32

3 Material Aid and Diplomatic Solidarity 62
   Mexico on the Eve of the Spanish Civil War: A Recapitulation 63
   The Spanish War 71
   The Spanish Embassy in Mexico 72
   The Decision to Aid the Republic 74
   Further Instances of Support 80
   Spanish Responses to Mexican Solidarity 82
   The Mexican Embassy in Madrid 85
   The Refugee Crisis 86
   Communists against Cárdenas 94
   Mexican Oil Expropriation, Spain, and the Impending World War 95

4 Arms for Republican Spain 99
   Open Engagement: The Expedition of the Magallanes 104
   International Reactions to Mexican Involvement in the Spanish War 110
   Miscellaneous Shipments 114
   Transhipment of American Aircraft through Mexico 116
Failed Expectations: The Journey of the Mar Cantábrico 120
The Czech Connection 126
The Mexican Legation in Paris: Procurer of Arms for Spain 130

5 Volunteers and Propagandists 134
Mexican Writers and Artists Against Fascism 134
Opposite Engagements: Andrés Iduarte and Carlos Pereyra 140
Mexican Combatants on the Spanish Fronts 141
Mexicans in the Francoist Ranks 155

6 Domestic Repercussions of the War 158
Armed Militias in Mexico 159
The Spanish Community and the Rebellion 163
The Cedillo Rebellion: A Mexican Franco? 165
In Search of the Mexican Popular Front (PRM): The Party of the Mexican Revolution 166
The Falange in Mexico 169
The Mexican Right and Franco’s Crusade 171
Women’s Suffrage in Mexico and the Spanish War 180
The Mexican Press and the Francoist Uprising 182
The Mexican Catholic Church and the Spanish Crusade 184
The Economic Elite 186

7 The Republic’s Downfall and its Effects on the Mexican Revolution 189
Defeat and Exodus 189
Change of Course: Franco’s Victory and the Decline of Cardenismo 197
The Protection of Spanish Refugees in Vichy and Occupied France 200
The Presidential Election of 1940 203
Mexico and Spain, 1945–1977: From Enduring Hostility to Final Reconciliation 211

Conclusions 214

Notes 220
Bibliography 263
Index 279